1. The world will witness G20 Leaders’ Summit 2022 in Bali on November 15-16. We have high hopes that the Summit will bring about solutions to solve the global crisis that we are facing.

2. We would like to remind all of us that to date, the global crisis continues as a result of COVID-19 pandemic and conflict between Ukraine-Russia and conflict in other countries. Millions of people are suffering from multidimensional crises: health, food, energy, humanitarian, climate and financial. As civil society organizations across the globe, we call on G20 leaders to work hand-in-hand to promote world peace and humanity by enhancing recovery efforts to solve the current global situation.

3. We note that numerous ministerial meetings of G20 failed to produce ministerial declarations. This is a huge concern for us, as it shows that the G20 has not been able to put aside their differences, instead focus on their own interests.

4. We would like to remind all of us the Recover Together, Recover Stronger could only be achieved if G20 collaborates, not only with G20 member countries, but also with other countries that have the same common goals, are committed to a concerted effort to recover from the pandemic, leaving no one behind, with input and support from civil society organizations.

5. The C20 Summit 2022 is a global event of Civil Society Organisations from 65 countries across the 5 continents. We gather here to emphasize that global solidarity is what we need to find solutions to the world’s problems. We come from diverse backgrounds, but we believe we should be united to achieve our common goals: equality, justice and humanity.

6. We, the global citizens, are here to promote Just and Inclusive Global Health Architecture, Climate Justice and Just Energy Transition, Tax Justice and Inclusive Sustainable Finance, Inclusive Digital Transformation. Taking into account the urgency of gender equality, persons with disabilities, humanitarian action, civic space and anti-corruption, the C20 addresses them as cross-cutting issues.

7. We believe that these topics should be addressed by the G20. C20 acknowledges the importance of G20 priorities i.e.: Global Health Architecture, Sustainable Energy Transition and Digital Transformation. However, we believe without adhering to the principles of justice, equality, inclusiveness, collaboration and sharing financial resources, these priorities may not be able to solve the root causes of the problem.

8. Finally, we would like to remind all of us that multidimensional crises: food, energy, humanitarian, climate crisis and financial crises have deepened. These crises not only obstruct the development agenda but could potentially foil various goals and targets of global agendas such as SDGs and the Paris Agreement, thus hampering the G20’s efforts to promote strong, sustainable, equal and inclusive global social-economic recovery. C20 therefore calls on the G20 to put aside their differences, end power contestation, and prioritize crisis resolution to ensure just recovery for all citizens across the world.
